"Stronger Together, Better Forever: Building Better Health for Men & Boys, Lifelong!" Men's Health Month - June 2024

Celebrated in the month of June, Men's Health Month aims to bring awareness about the health issues men are most affected by and creates an opportunity to generate movement towards preventative action! There is no better time, especially as we observe Father's Day on Sunday, June 16, to acknowledge, honor, and appreciate the important role of men in our own lives and throughout our communities. This June, let's commit to empowering men and boys to lead healthier lives, take charge of their health, make well informed decisions, and find balance on a pathway to a lifetime of well-being.

Below, are some powerful messages to share with the men in your life to give them tools to make actionable choices that can positively impact their lives and empower them on their journey to long-term well-being and disease prevention:

Fuel Your Body and Move More

As reported by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), in the United States, 41.6% of men experience obesity and 50.1% of men have been diagnosed with hypertension, both of which are linked to a higher risk for developing various health conditions such as heart disease, diabetes, and stroke. Eating healthier meals that include fruits, vegetables, and whole grains, and less processed and sugary foods, can help lower high blood pressure and body fat. Incorporating at least 150 minutes of physical activity per week doing something you enjoy, such as hiking, playing soccer, walking, bike riding, or going for a swim, can also help you improve these health outcomes!

Talk for Mental Health

Break down the barriers to good mental health by removing the stigma. Although for men it may be difficult to talk about stress, trauma, and challenging life events, it is important to take time to find the support to face these tough situations. Identify someone you trust, whether it's a health professional, a family member, or a friend, and engage in open and meaningful conversations. Talking about these issues can improve your health!

Practice Dry Week

Avoid the use of alcohol and tobacco products. These products are known to increase the risk for accidental injury, suicide, and cancer. Voice your desire to socialize without the need to consume harmful products such as these. Instead, try finding new healthy habits to enjoy with family and friends!

It is imperative that we build knowledge throughout our communities to support men and boys to better understand what puts their health at risk, identify tools to prevent or delay disease, and feel empowered to talk more openly about their own health issues. Whether it is men taking direct action to improve their health, or family and friends encouraging them to start the conversation, we must all take a personal approach in promoting positive lifestyle habits, healthier choices, longevity, and a better quality of life for all men in our communities.

"Juntos somos más fuertes, mejores para siempre: ¡Construyendo una mejor salud para hombres y niños durante toda la vida!" Mes de la Salud Masculina: junio de 2024

Celebrado en el mes de junio, el Mes de la Salud Masculina tiene como objetivo crear conciencia sobre los problemas de salud que más afectan a los hombres y crea una oportunidad para generar movimiento hacia acciones preventivas. No hay mejor momento, especialmente cuando celebramos el Día del Padre el domingo 16 de junio, para reconocer, honrar y apreciar el importante papel de los hombres en nuestras vidas y en nuestras comunidades. Este mes de junio, comprométanos a empoderar a hombres y niños para que lleven vidas más saludables, se hagan cargo de su salud, tomen decisiones bien informadas y encuentren el equilibrio en el camino hacia una vida de bienestar.

A continuación, se encuentran algunos mensajes poderosos para compartir con los hombres de su vida y brindarles herramientas para tomar decisiones prácticas que puedan impactar positivamente sus vidas y empoderarlos en su camino hacia el bienestar a largo plazo y a la prevención de enfermedades:

Alimente su cuerpo y muévase más

Según lo informado por los Centros para el Control y la Prevención de Enfermedades (CDC), en Estados Unidos, el 41.6% de los hombres tienen obesidad y el 50.1% de los hombres han sido diagnosticados con hipertensión, ambos cuales están relacionados con un mayor riesgo de desarrollar diversas condiciones de salud como enfermedades cardíacas, diabetes y accidentes cerebrovasculares. Comer más comidas saludables que incluyan frutas, verduras y alimentos integrales, y menos alimentos procesados y azucarados, puede ayudar a reducir la presión arterial alta y la grasa corporal. Incorporar al menos 150 minutos de actividad física por semana haciendo algo que disfrute, como caminar, jugar fútbol, caminar, andar en bicicleta o nadar, también puede ayudarlo a mejorar estos resultados de salud!

Hablar por su Salud Mental

Derribe las barreras a la buena salud mental eliminando el estigma. Aunque para los hombres puede resultar difícil hablar sobre el estrés, el trauma y los acontecimientos desafiantes de la vida, es importante tomarse el tiempo para encontrar el apoyo para enfrentar estas situaciones difíciles. Identifique a alguien en quien confíe, ya sea un profesional de la salud, un familiar o un amigo, y participe en conversaciones abiertas y significativas. ¡Hablar de estos temas puede mejorar su salud!

Practique la semana seca

Evite el uso de alcohol y productos de tabaco. Se sabe que estos productos aumentan el riesgo de lesiones accidentales, suicidio y cáncer. Exprese su deseo de socializar sin necesidad de consumir productos nocivos como estos. En su lugar, intente encontrar nuevos hábitos saludables para disfrutar con familiares y amigos!

Es imperativo que generemos conocimiento en nuestras comunidades para ayudar a hombres y niños a mejor entender que pone en riesgo su salud, identificar herramientas para prevenir o retrasar enfermedades y sentirse capacitados para hablar más abiertamente sobre sus propios problemas de salud. Ya sean los hombres que tomen medidas directas para mejorar su salud o familiares y amigos que los alientan a iniciar la conversación, todos debemos adoptar un enfoque personal para promover hábitos de vida positivos, opciones más saludables, longevidad y una mejor calidad de vida para todos los hombres en nuestras comunidades.
